Introduction

Ethical practices are important as they instill public trust in the fairness of markets, thus allowing markets to function efficiently. Therefore, ethical practices by finance and investment professionals lead to increased investor confidence in the global capital markets. The material covered in this course provides a framework for the ethical conduct in the investment profession as presented by the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standard of Professional Conduct.

We will discuss and analyze several case studies relating to scandals that have shaken public confidence in the ethics of Wall Street and in many other marketplaces around the world. These discussions/debates provide avenues for identifying, evaluating and discussing ethical issues relating to finance institutions, both domestically and internationally. The aim of this course is to explain and debate the relevance of ethics and ethical practices in the operations of financial institutions and in the personal conduct of finance professionals.

Those students intending to have a fulfilling and effective career in finance, such as, investment management, portfolio management and financial planning/advisory, will be better informed of the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

Course Description

INDIVIDUAL ESSAY

You are required to undertake research and submit an essay on the following topic:

“Financial institutions and markets have become more unethical since deregulation”

The length of your essay should be between 2800 to 3000 words excluding references. Please state the number of words used on the cover page of your essay.

The essay needs to have the following structure: (1) Cover page, (2) Table of Contents, (3) Abstract, (4) Introduction, (5) Discussion, (6) Conclusion, and (7) References using referencing style required by the Centre for Finance. You should compare and contrast different financial institutions and markets and discuss the cases of unethical behavior. You should relate to theories and also discuss empirical evidence.

[Essay needs to be formatted as follows: use Times Roman 12 font size, headings should be 14 font size and bold. Line spacing should be 1.5cm. The paper should use left and right 2.5cm margin and be fully justified. Page numbering is required].

Please note that Case Studies 1 to 3 can be undertaken EITHER individually or in pairs. Please liaise with Ms. Tanja Stjepanovic regarding the selection of the case study for analysis for case study 2 and 3 and also inform the student that you will be working with.

Case Study 1 Analysis, Presentation and Write-Up

Students should undertake research and write an analysis of the unethical practices of the financial sector that have led to the Global Financial Crisis in 2007 and the practices that have been undertaken until 2019. You should record your presentation and provide a copy of your presentation and PPTs of the case study via Learnweb. At the start of your presentation, you should introduce yourself and your topic. We need to see your face.

[Use similar format to Individual Essay for writing the case study. PPT presentation should not last more than 10 minutes and should comprise at least 10 slides. There are no word limits for the written part of the analyses but marking will reflect on the quality of writing, relevance and the quality of the information. Use similar format to Individual Essay for writing of this assessment].

Case Study 2 & 3 Analysis, Presentation and Write-Up

The material, provided on the Learnweb for each case, is basic and you are required to undertake an in-depth research regarding the background and recent developments relating to the case you have chosen to analyse. Your write-up should focus on the issues raised by the case and the development that has occurred until now (2019). You should clearly highlight ethical issues/theories involved.

- (1) Students are also required to submit their analysis of case study 2 & 3 online (via Learnweb).
- (2) You should bring your PPTs for EACH case study and present the same to the class during the face-to-face session. Presentation will last at least 20 minutes.

[There is no word limit for the written part of the case but marking will reflect on writing, relevance and quality of the information. Use similar format to Individual Essay for writing the case study].

Journal Article Presentation and Write-Up

Students are required to select a journal article from the Learnweb related to the ethics in the finance industry and present it to class during a face-to-face session. You are required to prepare a PPT presentation on the chosen journal article. Students are required to submit their PPT after their presentation (in paper form) during the face-to-face session. Presentation will be for at least 20 minutes.

Students are also required to submit a detailed analysis of the article (using MS Word) via Learnweb. There is no word limit for the written part of the case but marking will reflect on the writing, relevance and quality of the information provided. (Use similar format to Individual Essay for writing the Journal Article).
